January 27, 2017

Dear Mr. Holshouser,

After 24 years of teaching in the Port Townsend School District I have decided that it is time for me to retire. I plan to complete the current school year before officially retiring at the end of this contract year, June 30, 2017.

It seems so long ago that I started my first class of first grade students at Grant Street Elementary. It is hard to imagine that time before computers, when bulletins and daily information came around on paper, and if you wanted something from a colleague you had to go and ask them in person. Whole Language was the method of the day and themes were the basis for creating curriculum. Please be very supportive of your newer staff as their beginnings are getting much more complicated than mine was!

To look in the back of my room at the pectoral history of all the classes I have taught is truly an emotional experience. So many lives one touches when engaging in a career such as this one. I am proud of the academic experiences my students have had over the years, but more so, my most gratifying experience has been watching each class grow to become a comfortable, accepting, and enthusiastic community.

I have worked with some amazing people during my time here and have very fond memories of secretaries, custodians, lunch helpers, librarians, teaching assistants, principals, and of course, my other teaching mates. I will miss the collegiality of my work here and will most definitely miss the daily interaction with the kids. I look forward to seeing everyone out and about as I engage in other parts of town life!

Respectfully,

Chris Neuman

Parent Involvement 2016-17

Matthew Holshouser Principal

Phone: 360-379-4540 mholshouser@ptschools.org

According to Native American tradition, the Blue Heron symbolizes self-determination and self-reliance. Herons represent the ability to progress and evolve. The long thin legs of the heron reflect that an individual doesn't need great massive pillars to remain stable, but must be able to stand on one's own.

At Blue Heron School, parents and community members are welcome and invited to participate in the various activities and involvement opportunities we offer at our school.

We believe that active parent and community involvement is essential to ensure student academic success.

This document outlines ways in which parents can participate in our school community. We encourage you to be actively involved in the lives of your children at school. Please review Blue Heron's parent involvement policy found on our website. Paper copies are available at our school's main office.

COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Title 1 Parent Involvement

The board recognizes that parent involvement contributes to the achievement of academic standards by students participating in district programs. - A. Put into operation programs, activities and procedures for the involvement of parents in all of its Title 1 schools consistent with federal laws including the development and evaluation of policy.
